

Tom Francesconi NWS, TWSA
Watercolor Workshop: Fresh, Loose & Rich

Join nationally-recognized painter, Tom Francesconi, for a wonderful opportunity to experience an inspirational, informative and fun-filled week of painting on the beautiful Door County peninsula. Situated along the shore of Ellison Bay, Wisconsin, this workshop will invite the student to immerse him/herself in the exciting world of watercolor while experiencing all the rich and diverse opportunities this location provides. Tom endeavors to create a relaxed atmosphere where each student can reap the benefits of a very unique and personal painting experience.

Combining his passion for painting with his ability to clearly explain visual concepts, Tom will share his approach and methods for painting bold, loose and interpretive watercolors. Tom will discuss such topics as value relationships, planning the painting, and design principles, along with color and its usage. Each day Tom will do a complete painting demonstration. Subject matter may include landscapes, urban scenes and figurative examples. Students will work from their own references as they are presented each day with new challenges intended to encourage exploration. Ample opportunity is provided for everyone to paint with individual direction/guidance always a priority. At the end of each class day, a group critique will allow everyone the opportunity to learn from the works of others. Tom welcomes all painters, regardless of experience.

Weather permitting, a day of plein-air painting may also be planned. One day of the week, Tom will conduct an evening demonstration, after which the classroom space will be available for open painting. There also will be the opportunity for a wine and cheese gathering with fellow students at Tom's Ellison Bay studio/home as we share camaraderie by the fire.
